Welcome to Dani Pogi Yogi

It's a pleasure to have you here.

Client Agreement & Terms of Service

Please read the following agreement carefully. We strive to create a safe, secure, and consistent environment to support your optimal healing and growth. If you have any questions, please reach out — we're always happy to walk through anything with you.

Disclaimer

This work is not a substitute for, and is not in any way intended to replace, the care of a psychiatrist, licensed healthcare practitioner, or any medication such licensed individuals may have prescribed.

The sessions provided at Dani Pogi Yogi are energetic and spiritual in nature. Practitioners share information and guidance with clients who possess sufficient emotional and mental stability to remain responsible for their own well-being.

Your Commitment

We understand that sessions gently bring up information intended to expand your consciousness and awareness — and that this awareness, over time, helps to release stress and support your overall well-being.

We ask for your understanding and partnership around the following:

1. Payment is due in full at the time of booking to reserve your session time. This reservation of your time is part of how we create a container of commitment — for you and for us.
2. We ask for at least 24 hours' notice to reschedule or cancel a session. Sessions cancelled with less than 24 hours' notice, or missed altogether, will be charged in full.
3. Clients arriving more than 15 minutes late without prior notice will be considered a no-show, and the session will be held as used.
4. If you have purchased a package or container, the same cancellation and no-show policies apply to individual sessions within it.
5. Sessions and packages are personal to you and are not transferable to another individual, unless expressly approved by Dani Pogachefsky.
6. Respecting these policies is part of your consciousness process; taking full responsibility for your own commitments benefits your life and this work as a whole.
7. Phones and other communication devices must be turned off during sessions unless otherwise explicitly communicated and cleared in advance. This holds the container.

8. Clients must be 18 years or older to enter into this agreement independently. Clients under 18 may work with us only with the express written consent of a parent or legal guardian, who must review, sign, and financially agree to this agreement on the minor's behalf.

Should you arrive to a session showing signs of intoxication (alcohol, medication, or drugs), your session will automatically be forfeited, unless you have reported it to your facilitator prior to the session and we mutually agree to continue.

As our sessions are conducted remotely, in-person illness policies are limited — however, if you are joining an in-person engagement, please do not attend while visibly or contagiously ill. We're happy to reschedule in these circumstances with care and flexibility.

Payment & Booking

To honor your time and hold space intentionally, payment is due in full at the time of booking. Sessions are not considered confirmed or reserved until payment is received.

Cancellation Policy

Life happens, and we hold that with compassion. At the same time, consistency is one of the greatest gifts you can give yourself in this work, so we ask for at least 24 hours' notice if you need to reschedule or cancel.

- Cancellations or reschedule requests made less than 24 hours before the scheduled session will be charged in full.
- No-shows will be charged in full.
- Arrivals more than 15 minutes late without notice will be treated as a no-show.

Packages & Containers

We believe deeply in the power of committing to your own process. Packages and containers are designed as a personal journey between you and your practitioner, and are non-transferable and non-refundable except as described in this agreement.

Hourly Packages

Packages purchased by the hour or session are valid for six (6) months from the date of purchase. Unused sessions remaining after six months are considered expired and are non-refundable.

Containers

Packages purchased as a container (a defined period of ongoing work, such as 3 months, 6 months, or another term) are valid for the exact duration explicitly agreed upon between you and Dani Pogachefsky at the time of booking. The container's terms — including its length, session structure, and included communication access — are defined in your initial agreement.

If you've chosen a container, you're welcome to add individual sessions along the way at a discounted hourly rate, as specified at the time of purchase.

Upon completion of any package or container, you're welcome to re-up into a new package or container under the terms and pricing in effect at that time (see Rate Protection below).

Pausing & Reinstating a Container

We know life doesn't always move in a straight line. Containers may be paused according to the following structure:

- Clients may request one pause per 3-month period of their container.
- A pause of up to 2 weeks is available for a fee of $150.
- A pause of up to 4 weeks is available for a fee of $300.
- Longer containers are eligible for additional pauses proportionally (for example, a 6-month container may include up to 2 pause requests; a 9-month container up to 3).

The container's end date is extended by the length of the pause, so no session time or duration is lost. No separate reinstatement fee applies — your container simply resumes at the end of the paused period at the originally scheduled cadence.

If a client does not resume their container within 30 days of the pause end date, the container will be considered discontinued, and the Early Discontinuation policy below will apply, calculated based on time elapsed including any paused period.

Early Discontinuation & Refunds

We understand that everybody has needs, and life happens. Our commitment is to your consistency and your commitment to yourself — because this work asks for time and presence to truly land, and we want to protect that process for you.

Before the Halfway Point

Refunds are not guaranteed during the first half of your container, as this period reflects the foundational work of the container and is when consistency matters most. If a genuine emergency arises during this time, we will consider your situation individually and in good faith — please reach out to us and let's talk about what's happening.

From the Halfway Point Onward

If you experience a genuine emergency and need to discontinue your container after completing the halfway point, you are welcome to receive 50% of the value of your remaining weeks back.

Refunds are calculated using the per-week value of your container, based on the total price paid, from the point of discontinuation through the container's original end date.

"Genuine emergency" may include, but is not limited to, serious illness or injury, hospitalization, the death of an immediate family member, or a significant and unforeseeable life circumstance that prevents continued participation.

How to Request a Refund

Please reach out to us in writing and share what's going on — we'll hold that conversation with care. All refund determinations, both before and after the halfway point, are made at the sole and final discretion of Dani Pogachefsky, grounded in whether the work has been given the space and commitment it needs to unfold. These determinations are final and not subject to dispute.

Rate Protection

Clients are protected from any rate increases for the full duration of their current package or container. This protection also extends through one (1) subsequent renewal — meaning if you re-up into a new package or container immediately following completion of your current one, your existing rate is honored one additional time.

After that subsequent renewal, new pricing in effect at the time will apply to any further packages or containers.

Communication Between Sessions

Containers that include ongoing communication access are available to you at any time via text message, voice memo, or email. You can expect a response within 24 hours.

This access is intended to support you between sessions, not to replace them. Any single exchange requiring more than approximately 5 minutes of voice memo or call time will be treated as an additional session and offered at your discounted container rate, at Dani Pogachefsky's discretion.

Working with Minors

We welcome working with clients under the age of 18 with the informed consent and participation of a parent or legal guardian, who must review and sign this agreement and assume financial responsibility on the minor's behalf.

Session content shared by a minor client remains private and confidential, in the same manner as it would for any adult client, and is not shared with a parent or guardian except: (a) where the minor client has explicitly agreed to share it, or (b) where a safety exception applies, as described in the Confidentiality section below.

Confidentiality

Fostering your safety, security, and trust is our highest value. Everything shared in and outside of sessions is held as strictly confidential unless explicitly agreed otherwise.

There is one exception to this policy: if we perceive that you are at risk of harming yourself or another person, we will alert the appropriate authorities. We take your confidentiality seriously and will go above and beyond to protect it.

Limitation of Liability

You acknowledge that the services offered by Dani Pogachefsky and Dani Pogi Yogi are spiritual, energetic, and educational in nature, and are not a substitute for medical, psychiatric, psychological, or other licensed healthcare treatment.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, Dani Pogachefsky and Dani Pogi Yogi shall not be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising from or related to participation in sessions, packages, or containers. In no event shall total liability exceed the amount paid by the client for the services giving rise to the claim.

You voluntarily assume full responsibility for any risks associated with participation in this work, including emotional, psychological, or physical outcomes, and agree that you are solely responsible for your own well-being and any decisions made as a result of this work.

Governing Law

This agreement is governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Florida, without regard to conflict of law principles. Any disputes arising from this agreement shall be resolved in the appropriate courts of Florida.

Severability

If any provision of this agreement is found to be unenforceable or invalid under applicable law, that provision will be limited or eliminated to the minimum extent necessary, and the remaining provisions of this agreement will remain in full force and effect.

Electronic Signature & Acceptance

By booking a session, submitting payment, or electronically signing this agreement, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to all terms outlined above. Your electronic signature or completed booking and payment carries the same legal weight and effect as a handwritten signature.
